Richard Benishai

Richard Benishai had an unusual beginning. He was born in Algeria in 1943 and just as his mother went into labor, German planes started bombing his town. Luckily the family was unscathed. In 1956, as Algeria's War of Independence began and the Jewish population became undermined, his parents decided to move the family to the United States.

After attending college for a year, he knew that he wasn't ready for academics, nor did he want to settle down, so he joined the US military where he served three years as a communications and electronics technician. His training led to a job with Philco-Ford in the communications domain, where he travelled the world solving technical problems for different companies.

During his 4th business trip to Israel, he met a woman who would become his wife. At the age of 31, he took the bold step to immigrate to Israel and begin a new life. They subsequently had four sons.

After six years of working at a high-tech firm in Israel, he became self-employed. It was also at this time where he contracted a violent headache that lasted several days. After receiving hands-on treatment, the pain went away. To him, it was a miracle and an occurrence that opened his mind to unseen energies.

Shortly after this experience, he attended a four-day seminar with Drunvalo Melchizedek, who introduced him to geobiology—he received a clear understanding that this was his path. To become adept in the field, he studied in the United States and France. After his initial training, Benishai began working on smaller venues like the energetic purification of private homes.

Fate has brought him together with people and situations, which continued to open him up to a vast energetic world, where he could continue proving his abilities in the fields of energy, healing, the paranormal, and bioenergy. Since 2000, Benishai has spent much of his time in study and research in these areas.

He has co-authored publications related to geobiology and has intervened for peace in countries such as the US, the Ivory Coast, Israel, Spain, Portugal and France.

Presently he is working on a global level, increasing the energy level of the planet, country-by-country. He regularly teaches classes in Spain, France, Holland, the US and Israel. He still lives in Israel.
